ABOUT CIRCULATION.

The Tribune this morning made a stunning hit—it found a piece of news at least 20 days old, and tries to make its readers believe it has just happened.

Why, dear boys, didn't you know that a colored comic supplement has been sent out with the big 16-page Saturday East Oregonian for the past four weeks?

When your ribs began to drop off 20, 30, 50, 60 a month, while the East Oregonian was adding quite after quire to its pile of daily papers, didn't you know that something had happened?

The East Oregonian blushes to receive the compliment showered upon it by the advertisement in the Tribune. We had scarcely dared to boast of the phenomenal growth of the East Oregonian, but the Tribune forces upon us a compliment which we humbly acknowledge.

True, the East Oregonian made an order for 1000 comic supplements for its city circulation, exclusively, and it proved to be such an attraction to readers that another order for out of town subscribers immediately followed, so the 1000 readers of the Daily East Oregonian in the city, as well as mail subscribers out of the city now get the colored supplement every Saturday.

Dozens and dozens of Tribune subscribers like the colored supplement and the other admirable features of the East Oregonian so well, that they have switched over and are now constant readers of this paper.

They get all the news in the East Oregonian, find all the pages right side up, and it reaches them in the evening when everybody has time to read.

And then, besides, people are tired of being jolled about that "Associated Press" report. It is such a huge joke! And that circulation statement of 1175? Why, dear boys, everybody knows that Joe Hoch and Otto Boettcher and two or three others were buying 100 papers each every day, to get the coupons, making the number of circulated papers only 700.

We hate to take the Tribune's subscribers, but they come, and we can't help it. Really, the boys are working hard enough to get out a good paper down there, but its getting worse. They spent enough time writing that advertisement for the East Oregonian this morning to have hustled up two or three live news stories, instead of printing something that everybody knew a month ago. If you see it upside down in the Tribune you can't be sure that it's so. They're getting worse.

EAGLES EXPECT A CLASH.

Feathers will fly at the Eagle's initiation to take place in this city on the night of October 21.

This event is to be "Press Night," with the Eagles, because of the large number of Umatilla county newspaper men to be admitted to the order on that night. Among those of the fraternity who will take the degress of Eagledom then, will be the inveterate enemies, Editor Clark Wood, of the Weston Leader, and Editor Fred Boyd, of the Athena Press.

The feud and jealousy long existing between these rivals has lately been embittered and is now at its height again. For years these feudists have run rival weekly papers, but when Boyd began the publication for a semi-weekly some months ago, it so intensified the jealousy of Wood that he began planning some cunning scheme of revenge.

He conceived the idea of taking a trip to St. Louis, something utterly beyond the reach of Boyd, who, it is alleged, receives a portion of the weekly contributions from all the Athena churches, in order to keep the semi-weekly running, and humiliate his rival.

Wood now takes delight in torturing his enemy by frequent and haughty references to his recent trip to St. Louis, and to the broader intelligence and more cosmopolitan capabilities of an editor who has thus traveled beyond the confines of his county.

In return for these studied threats, Editor Boyd recites the fact that Wood was duped at every turn, pilfered by grafters at St. Louis and betrayed by his substitute editor at home, that he was gulled, hoodwinked, deceived and imposed upon because of his utter ignorance of the ways of the world outside of Weston, that he returns home "busted," humiliated, stripped of his dignity and unworthy to wear the title of "editor."

Boyd boasts that he has saved his money and preserved his dignity, and that his reputation remains intact, while that of his enemy is beamirched with contact with the vulgar world.

When these two enemies meet in the aerie of the Eagles, it is feared it will cause a discord at the feast.

It has not yet been arranged as to which will be initiated first, in order that he may witness the torture of his enemy later.

Both Wood and Boyd are slated for a speech at the banquet, but it is rumored that Boyd will refuse to place himself on a level with Wood, and that if the Eagles don't assign him to a perch several rounds above that occupied by Wood that he will deny them the honor of his presence.

It is rumored at Athena that in order to equal the St. Louis trip taken by Wood, Boyd is now planning a stunning surprise for his rival, and it is possible that he may visit Pasco within the next few days, as he has a small amount of mileage on the W. & C. R. still unused.

It is hoped the teachers leave Pendleton with as high regard for the city and its people as the people have for the teachers. It was a representative body of educators, strong and conservative and yet progressive—a body of people in whom the parents of the land may safely lodge the highest confidence.

JAPAN'S GOLD FIELDS.

It is reported that Japan has at this time discovered a new gold field, estimated to contain $500,000,000 in gold, which can be recovered at the rate of $5,000,000 yearly. The Japanese section in the palace of mines and metallurgy at the Louisiana Purchase exposition is a sufficient argument as to the skill of these artisans of the Occident in mining and metallurgy, and if profitable fields of gold have been discovered on the Japanese islands, the Japanese themselves can be depended upon to develop and exploit them fully and according to the best modern practice. Such a discovery may be of great moment to Japan, but it hardly offers much for an outsider, either in the way of furnishing machinery or capital, or acquiring an interest by location or purchase.

We seldom fear a danger that we cannot see. The danger of being run-down by a horse is a very real one to everybody, the danger of being murdered by a microbe does not trouble us.

And yet the minute microbe is more dangerous than the wildest horse. The only people who can afford not to fear the microbes of disease are those who keep their blood pure and rich. These are practically immune from the attacks of most microbes.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, and gives the body a vigorous vitality. It cures scrofula, eczema, boils, pimples and other eruptive diseases which are caused by impure blood.
